DAVID I. SCHACHTER
schachter@parkerrosen.com

David Schachter represents business owners in commercial disputes including minority shareholder claims, partnership breakups, real estate and employment litigation. Mr. Schachter's practice ranges from eminent domain and land use to employment law, contract disputes and general business litigation.

Prior to joining Parker Rosen, Mr. Schachter practiced law at Hunter Maclean in Savannah, Georgia, where he focused on business litigation and employment law. Mr. Schachter also drafted loan documents in the area of commercial finance for secured loan transactions involving millions of dollars and worked on various commercial real estate matters.

Mr. Schachter clerked for the Honorable Ann Aldrich, Judge, U.S. District Court, Northern District of Ohio, in the summer of 2005.

While in law school, Mr. Schachter was a member of the Executive Editorial Board of the Case Western Reserve Journal of International Law, upon which he served as Articles Editor. Case Western Reserve University School of Law named Mr. Schachter to the Dean's Honor List for five semesters and awarded him two CALI Excellence Awards.

Mr. Schachter spent three years studying abroad at Yeshivat Ner Yaakov and Ohr Somayach in Jerusalem, Israel, as well as a year studying at Yeshiva Shor Yoshuv in Far Rockaway, New York.
